

ABOUT LIHQ

Turning ideas into reality

Long Island Internet Headquarters (LIHQ) is a full-service Internet provider and web design company, serving small and large corporations, as well as educational institutions and not-for-profit organizations.

LIHQ prides itself with being able to provide customized solutions through attentive and careful planning, budgeting, and implementation. Communication, expertise, and solutions designed to fit the client's needs are what LIHQ is all about. For over a decade, LIHQ customers have continued to contract services and refer to LIHQ as their "provider of choice".

LIHQ specializes in customized integrated technology solutions including:

- Custom application and database programming
- Website design and development
- E-commerce solutions
- Website marketing and advertising campaigns
- Online business plans
- Network design and setup
- Dedicated Internet access

Through professional project leadership, technology execution, artistic skills, and years of online business experience, LIHQ has successfully assisted many corporations in turning their ideas into reality. The LIHQ team is comprised of experienced IT and design professionals who understand the need for a company to cost-effectively stay current with today's technologies. Each LIHQ team leader reviews every step of a project to ensure the client receives the most effective solution and superior service.